DONATIONS

The Astros commitment to the community includes assisting non-profits with their fundraising efforts through in-kind donations. In 2009, the Astros were able to assist more than 1,200 charities through the donation program. All requests must be made on the non-profit organization's official letterhead and include basic information about the charity/event, a contact name, address, phone number and e-mail address, the date of the event and a copy of the organization's 501 (c)(3) letter. Request letters must be received at least six weeks in advance of the event and should be sent to: Houston Astros, Attention: Donations, P.O. Box 288, Houston, Texas 77001-0288, or faxed to: (713) 259-8981. Additional information is available at www.astros.com/community.

PLAYER AND STAFF APPEARANCES

All groups interested in requesting a player or front office staff appearance must complete and submit an appearance application at least four weeks in advance of the event. The application should be for a specific event with a specific date. The Astros recommend that events not center on an appearance and that groups approach an appearance as a bonus to the event because often requests are unable to be arranged due to the volume of requests and scheduling conflicts. Online applications are available at www.astros.com/community.

JUNCTION JACK

Community Affairs schedules all appearances by the Astros mascot, Junction Jack. He is available to make appearances at community, school, church or corporate functions. For rate information and to complete an online application visit www.astros.com/community.

URBAN YOUTH ACADEMY

HOUSTON ASTROS MLB URBAN YOUTH ACADEMY AT SYLVESTER TURNER PARK

On Sept. 25, 2009, Major League Baseball (MLB), the Houston Astros, and the Houston Parks and Recreation Department (HPARD) broke ground on the Houston Astros MLB Urban Youth Academy at Sylvester Turner Park. The Academy's grand opening is slated for April 10, 2010 and will provide year-round free baseball and softball instruction to local youth ages 7-17. The Academy in Houston marks the second one of its kind opened by MLB.

Located in north Houston, the Houston Astros MLB Urban Youth Academy at Sylvester Turner Park will feature a show field complete with scoreboard; permanent seating for 500 fans, with space for an additional 1,800 fans; dugouts and lights; one auxiliary field; two little league/softball fields and batting cages; and 1,500 square feet of office space and other facilities.

The Houston Astros MLB Urban Youth Academy at Sylvester Turner Park will staff local high school, collegiate, current and former professional ballplayers to help run the different Major Leaguecaliber training camps and clinics throughout the year. It will offer the free programs to a minimum of 2,500 youth. Additional instructors, collegiate coaches, scouts, and certified athletic trainers will also work with young athletes at the Academy. The Academy will open its doors to all who want to participate from the Houston area with enrollment open year-round.

In addition to baseball and softball instruction, boys and girls attending the Houston Astros MLB Urban Youth Academy at Sylvester Turner Park will be given the opportunity to participate in free seminars on umpiring, athletic field management, scouting and player development, sports and broadcast journalism, public relations and statistics, as well as athletic sports training. The Houston Astros MLB Urban Youth Academy at Sylvester Turner Park will create a diversified program for students that will not only concentrate on baseball and softball but educational opportunities as well.

GRAND SLAM FOR YOUTH BASEBALL

DUR MISSION

Grand Slam for Youth Baseball makes it easier for boys and girls to play, learn about and experience baseball, thus seeking to foster self-confidence, involvement, teamwork, and fun among area children.

HISTORY

On June 5, 2002, the Houston Astros and Minute Maid announced that they had "expanded their relationship to create a long-term marketing and community partnership." The agreement called for the ballpark to be rechristened Minute Maid Park; the continuation of the Minute Maid Squeeze Play; extended pouring rights, advertising and marketing; and a commitment "to support youth baseball programs in the Houston area."

This commitment to youth by both companies created Grand Slam for Youth Baseball. The program was officially announced on August 20, 2002 on the occasion of the unveiling of the large Minute Maid Park sign in center field.

DVERVIEW

The Houston Astros and the makers of Minute Maid partner together in a four-part program designed to bring the benefits of the National Pastime to the young people of Greater Houston. Named Grand Slam for Youth Baseball, the program was created to make it easier for boys and girls to play, learn about and experience baseball, thus seeking to foster self-confidence, involvement, teamwork, and fun among youth in Houston and the surrounding areas,

In addition to behind-the-scenes support and coordination, Minute Maid commits more than $100,000 annually to Grand Slam for Youth Baseball. The Houston Astros and Astros in Action Foundation complement the youth baseball program by committing fundraising assistance, game tickets, player appearances and use of Minute Maid Park.

FOUR-PART PROGRAM

Grand Slam for Youth Baseball comprises the following four components:

Sponsorship of the City of Houston Parks & Recreation Department's Youth Baseball Program

The 2010 season marks the eighth year Grand Slam for Youth Baseball has sponsored the City of Houston Parks and Recreation Department's free youth baseball, softball, and t-ball program for kids ages 4-18. GSFYB provides all t-shirts, caps, equipment, and instruction for the program. More than 3,000 Houston-area boys and girls benefit from the sponsorship each year.

Refurbishment of one youth ball field a year

The Astros and Minute Maid, through GSFYB have pledged to refurbish one youth ball field a year by providing landscaping, renovating facilities or helping with other needs. Employees of both organizations assist in the refurbishment efforts.

The first youth ball field to be refurbished through GSFYB was Settegast Park Ball Field in 2003 located in Houston's East End, only blocks from Minute Maid Park. Other refurbishment projects include:

- 2004 Northeast Family YMCA
- 2005 La Marque Little League's Bobby Beach Memorial Stadium
- 2006 St. Monica Catholic Church Youth Baseball Fields #1 and #2
- 2007 John Havard Field
- 2008 L.S. Stiles Field
- 2009 First Colony Little League Baseball Complex, Dream League (DL) Field 1
- · 2010 Columbo Field, Buccaneer Field in Galveston

Create a baseball-related educational program

The Grand Slam for Youth Baseball Scholarship program was launched in 2005 to assist Houston-area high school senior boys and girls with college expenses. Through the program, Minute Maid and the Astros fund and support individual $2,500 college scholarships each year.

In 2009, 25 youth received scholarships and since inception $173,750 has been granted to young students.

Offer unique fund-raising opportunities for youth baseball/softball teams and leagues

Through GSFYB, the Astros and Minute Maid offer unique fundraising opportunities to help qualified 501(c)3 youth baseball and softball teams and leagues raise money for baseball/softball-related expenses. Since the program started, more than $100,000 has been donated to Houston-area teams and leagues.

Information and applications for various Grand Slam for Youth Baseball programs can be found at www.astros.com/community or at www.gsfyb.com

FULLULLE THE THE

2010 marks the 18th season for Drayton McLane, Jr., as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Houston Astros Baseball Club. During his tenure at the helm, the Astros have undoubtedly had their most successful run in franchise history.

Drayton's philosophy remains the same, a philosophy that he enthusiastically preaches to his staff on a regular basis. "We have two missions: to be a champion, and to make a positive difference in the community!"

"BE A CHAMPION"

Since Drayton and his family purchased the team in 1993, the Astros rank third in the National League and sixth in the Majors in winning percentage (.530) over 17 seasons from 1993-2009. The team has won 1,424 games while losing only 1,264 during McLane's 17-year tenure of ownership.

The Astros have reached the postseason in six of the last 13 seasons with Wild Card berths in 2004 and 2005, and National League Central Division titles in 1997, 1998, 1999 and 2001. Prior to 1993, the Astros had reached the postseason just three times in the first 31 seasons of the franchise.

The 2005 season was the most successful on the field for the Houston franchise in its history. The Astros reached heights not previously attained, when the team won its first National League Championship and advanced to the World Series. On October 25, 2005, Minute Maid Park played host to the first World Series game ever played in the state of Texas.

Despite a 15-30 record through May 24 of the 2005 season, Drayton remained committed to the team's core group of players and believed that they could turn the season around. What followed was remarkable and historic, as the 2005 Astros rallied to become the first team since the 1914 Boston Braves to make the playoffs after being as many as 15 games below .500 at one point during the season. The team won its first National League crown on October 19, 2005, defeating the St. Louis Cardinals in the last game ever played at Busch Stadium.

Over the last 13 seasons, only the Yankees (12), Braves (9), Red Sox (8) and Cardinals (7) have made the playoffs more than Drayton's Astros. In three of the last seven seasons in which the team missed the postseason (2003, 2006, and 2008), the team was not eliminated from playoff contention until the final week of the season. Another highlight in Drayton's tenure occurred in 2001, when the Astros were named Organization of the Year by four outlets: TOPPS, SportsTicker, Baseball America and Baseball Weekly.

In the last six years, the Astros have hosted two Division Series, two League Championship Series, and two World Series games, as well as the 2004 Major League Baseball All-Star Game. The 75th edition of the Midsummer Classic was a treat for Astros fans and the city, as the world's top baseball talent converged on the city of Houston on July 13, 2004.

Drayton has shown a strong commitment to putting a solid, competitive team on the field as the Astros have had one of the highest payrolls in the National League for the past several years and even topped that list in 2006. Current Astros All-Stars Lance Berkman, Carlos Lee and Roy Oswalt were all signed to lucrative, multi-year deals in recent years.

"MAKE A POSITIVE DIFFERENCE IN THE COMMUNITY"

The success of the Astros has not been limited to the playing field. When he purchased the team, one of Drayton's main goals was to help make a positive difference in the community. This dream is being realized through both the players and the front office staff, who combined to volunteer for

The Astros in Action Foundation was founded in 2000 and has served in thousands of projects and events, working to strengthen the community while dispersing close to $5.0 million throughout the Houston region. The Astros organization attends charity events, underwrites scholarships, visits children's hospitals and hosts underprivileged children at the ballpark. Drayton also serves on a number of boards and committees. He is actively involved with the Cooper Institute for Aerobics Research, Greater Houston Partnership, and the United Way. He serves as Chairman of the Board at Scott & White Hospital, immediate past chairman of Baylor University, is on the board of directors of The Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University, and provides leadership as Vice President of the executive committee of the National Boy Scouts of America.

The Houston Astros' commitment to making a positive difference in the community was exemplified in 2008 during the aftermath of Hurricane Ike when Drayton, the Astros in Action Foundation, and the Astros players and staff made a combined $1 million donation to the Gulf Coast Ike Relief Fund. The team also enacted numerous initiatives during the final week of games at Minute Maid Park in September of that season focused on relief for hurricane victims, including a blood drive, food and supply drives, and collection of donations for the Gulf Coast Ike Relief Fund.

WORLD-CLASS BALLPARK

Drayton succeeded in leaving an indelible mark on the city of Houston with the construction of beautiful Minute Maid Park, which celebrates its 10th anniversary in 2010. When the venue welcomed its first fans in 2000, few realized what a surge of energy it would bring to the downtown area. Drayton's passion for baseball and the Houston Astros franchise is shared by the citizens of Houston, as more than 28 million fans have visited the ballpark in its first 10 seasons, reaching the three-million mark in four of those seasons. In 2004, Houston fans set an attendance record and provided a level of excitement and enthusiasm that propelled the team to an 18-game home winning streak. Adjacent to historic Union Station, the street-level ballpark was designed to blend harmoniously into the diversity of its surroundings. Since construction began in 1998, the development around the ballpark has increased tremendously and has had a positive economic impact on the surrounding area. The 40,976-seat, state-of-the-art ballpark ushered in a new era of baseball in Houston, and the first 10 seasons in the new downtown ballpark have included some of the most successful in the history of the franchise by any barometer.

During his 17 years in Major League Baseball, Drayton has served on MLB's Executive Committee, Finance Committee, Legislative Affairs, Ownership and Realignment committees, and the MLB Advanced Media Board.

After receiving his undergraduate degree from Baylor University and graduate degree from Michigan State University, Drayton returned to his hometown of Cameron, Texas, and began working in the family business, the McLane Company. What began as a small grocery distribution center grew, under Drayton's leadership, into an international firm with 18 divisions throughout the United States. Drayton worked his way through the ranks, beginning in the warehouse. Before merging the business with Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. in 1991, Drayton had served as the company's President, Chief Executive Officer, and Chairman of the Board. He now devotes his time to McLane Group, the family holding company for McLane Global, McLane Advanced Technologies, McLane Portugal, Classic Foods, Hometown Favorites, LoneStar Plastics and the Houston Astros.

ACCOLADES

Over the years, Drayton has received many significant awards and has been recognized in many ways. Most recently, he received the title "Regent Emeritus" from Baylor University on February 11, 2010, and, on May 2, 2009, he and his wife, Elizabeth, were honored when Michigan State held a ceremony to formally name their new ballpark McLane Baseball Stadium. Drayton and Elizabeth made a $4 million donation toward the new facility.

In 2008, Drayton received the Russell H. Perry Free Enterprise Award from the Dallas Baptist University, the Silver Buffalo from the Boy Scouts of America in 2004, the Distinguished Leadership Award from Leadership Houston in 2002, and, in 2000, the Father of the Year Award from the Houston Community Partners. In addition, he was presented with the Herbert Hoover Award from Food Distributors International in 1998, and was honored with the Golden Plate Award in 1997 from the American Academy of Achievement. He also received an honorary doctorate from Michigan State University and was inducted into the Texas Business Hall of Fame and the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame.

On January 19, 2005, Scott & White Memorial Hospital honored Drayton and his wife by creating the Elizabeth and Drayton McLane Jr. Chair in Health and Wellness, an endowed chair that is a joint appointment between the hospital and the Texas A&M University Health Science Center College of Medicine. The chair focuses on several items, including preventive care, quality of life, and general well-being.

Additionally, Drayton received the Woodrow Wilson Award for Public Service from the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in January 2008. The award is given to those executives who, by their examples and their business practices, have shown a deep concern for the common good beyond the bottom line.

Drayton and Elizabeth reside in Temple, Texas, and are proud parents and grandparents. They have two sons: Drayton III and Denton. Drayton III and his wife, Amy, have two sons, Drayton IV and Brooks. Denton and his wife, Amy, also have two sons, Jeff and Jake.

Drayton and Elizabeth are active members of First Baptist Church of Temple, where Drayton teaches Sunday School and currently serves as an active Deacon and Chairman of the Deacon Board.

PRESIDENT, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

The 2010 season marks Tal Smith's 53rd as a Major League Baseball executive, his 16th consecutive with the Astros, and his 34th year overall with the Houston franchise.

Tal started his baseball career in the farm department of the Cincinnati Reds in 1958, and his long tenure with the Astros has included the birth of two baseball stadiums, The Astrodome and Minute Maid Park. With his long tenure of service to the Houston baseball franchise, Tal is the main link between the Astros past and present as the club continues a new era in Houston.

Tal was a vital aide to owner Drayton McLane and to the interests of the club throughout the many stages of development of the Astros fabulous baseball facility, Minute Maid Park. The ballpark's field dimensions and unique angles were designed with Tal's input and assistance. Center field boasts a 10-degree hill - "Tal's Hill" - a tribute to his creativity and contribution to the Minute Maid Park project. Tal filled a similar role in ballpark development in 1963 when he became assistant to the president of the Houston Sports Association, acting primarily as a liaison for HSA and its president, Judge Roy Hofheinz, during the construction of the Astrodome, a project which changed the face of stadiums and the city of Houston forever.

When natural grass failed to thrive under the Astrodome roof, Tal was responsible for finding an alternative playing surface. This led to the installation of AstroTurf, the synthetic turf that became widely used in stadiums throughout the country.

Tal returned to the Houston organization on Nov. 22, 1994, when he was named president of the club, and he celebrated his 50th season in Major League Baseball in 2007. Since 1981, he has been owner and operator of Houston-based Tal Smith Enterprises, a firm which has provided consulting services to 26 of the 30 Major League clubs. The most recognized functions have been in the preparation and presentation of salary arbitration cases (where Tal's firm has handled more than 900 filings and tried more than 150 cases), operational reviews, the financial appraisal of franchises and testimony as an expert witness in sports-related litigation. Tal also served as the sole arbitrator in two disputes involving Major League Baseball where the Commissioner was recused.

Before forming his own company, he worked for 23 years in management and administrative positions with Major League clubs, including president and general manager of the Astros and executive vice president of the New York Yankees.

Widely respected by his peers throughout the country, Tal was chosen as one of 25 panelists by Baseball America in 1999 to provide an overview of baseball in the 20th century, highlighting the greatest feats, personalities and records in the game during the past 100 years.

Baseball America also recognized Tal for his career of achievements and innovations in December of 2005, when the publication honored him with the Lifetime Achievement Award at the Winter Meetings in Dallas.

Tal was the primary architect of Houston's first playoff club, the 1980 NL Western Division champs. That season was followed by a dramatic five-game NLCS against the Phillies in which the last four games went into extra innings, leaving Houston six outs short of its first trip to the World Series. For his efforts, he was recognized by The Sporting News as the Major League Executive of the Year. He also has served in his current capacity for all six of the club's playoff teams over the last 13 seasons, including the first World Series team in franchise history. The 2005 Astros won the first National League Pennant in team history and on October 25, 2005, Minute Maid Park hosted the first World Series game ever played in the State of Texas.

Tal came to Houston from Cincinnati in November of 1960 when he was named assistant to the new National League franchise's general manager, Gabe Paul. He was named farm director of the Colt .45s in April 1961 and held that post for two years. In April 1963, he became assistant to the president of the Houston Sports Association, acting primarily as liaison for HSA during the construction of the Astrodome. In the late 1960s, he also developed the formats and pioneered the implementation of the computerization of scouting reports and other player data. During the first of Tal's three terms with the Houston franchise, the club signed and developed more players that reached the Major Leagues than any other team.

Following completion of the Astrodome, Tal was named vice president and director of player personnel in December 1965. In 1972, he was named vice president and director of operations for Astrodome-Astrohall Stadium Corporation. In November 1973, he left Houston to become executive vice president of the New York Yankees, serving in that capacity until his return to Houston as general manager of the Astros in August 1975. He was named president of the club on Sept. 23, 1976.

In 1978, Tal led an expedition of Astros players and staff to Cuba, where they conducted baseball clinics and observed Cuban players.

Tal was born in 1933 in Framingham, Mass. He attended Culver Military Academy (IN) and Duke University where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in business administration in 1955. Before entering Duke (at 16 years of age), Tal spent the summer as a staff announcer for the ABC radio affiliate in Durham, N.C. While at Duke, he broadcast Blue Devil basketball for stations in the region. During the summer recess in 1953, he worked as an assistant for the editorial staff at The Sporting News (at that time, the National Baseball Weekly) in St. Louis Following graduation, he served as an officer in the United States Air Force for two years while continuing his radio work with various sports programs on a part-time basis. Upon completion of his military service, he worked as a news reporter for the Cape Cod (MA) Standard-Times before joining the Cincinnati Reds in December 1957 as an administrative assistant for scouting and minor league operations.

Tal was inducted into the Culver Academies Athletic Hall of Fame on September 28, 1996, and the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame on Nov. 4, 1998. He was presented with the Fred Hartman Long and Meritorious Service Award by the Houston Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America in 1993. He currently serves as Chairman of the Athletic Advisory Committee for the Culver Academies and is a member of the Advisory Board for Baseball America. He is a long-time member, and former officer, of SABR (Society for American Baseball Research) and currently serves as First Vice President of the Association of Professional Ball Players of America, an organization which was founded in 1924 to provide financial assistance for those professional baseball players, coaches, umpires, scouts, and other baseball personnel who are in need.

Tal and his wife, Jonnie, make their home in Houston. They have two children, Valerie and Randy, and two grandsons, Quinn and Shane. Randy is a former general manager of the San Diego Padres (1993-95) and Detroit Tigers (1996-2001). Randy became the then-youngest general manager in Major League Baseball history when he was appointed to that position by the Padres in 1993 at age 29. Randy presently serves as the director of player development for the Padres.

FRONT OFFICE

Houston Astros President of Business Operations Pam Gardner currently serves as the longest-tenured female chief executive in Major League Baseball. The 2010 season marks her 10th as President of Business Operations, in addition to her 22nd overall with the organization. She was named to her current post in August of 2001. Pam oversees business and financial aspects for the Club, including all revenue areas, customer service, building and financial operations, sponsorship and ticket sales, as well as community marketing, public relations and special events.

Under Pam's leadership as team president, the club has consistently ranked among the top-drawing clubs in Major League Baseball. The Astros drew a franchise-record season crowd during their National League Wild Card season in 2004, as 3,087,872 fans attended games at Minute Maid Park. In 2007, the club drew 3,000,000 fans for the second consecutive year as well as the fourth time in the first nine seasons of baseball in Houston's downtown ballpark. In 2008, the Astros welcomed the 25 millionth fan at Minute Maid Park. The Astros business group organized the ballpark activities as the club hosted playoff games in three seasons since 2001, including the first World Series game ever played in the State of Texas in 2005. Minute Maid Park also played host to the All-Star Game in 2004.

In ceremonies held in Houston in November of 2006, Pam became the first female executive inducted into the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame. In April 2005, Gardner was recognized by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 Most Influential Women in Sports. She was also included in a special exhibit at the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, saluting women in baseball. She received the prestigious Marguerite Ross Barnett leadership award from the Houston Area Urban League in 2008 and was also named one of the "Women on the Move" by Texas Executive Women and the Houston Chronicle.

Pam originally joined the Astros in 1989 as director of communications, developing advertising and marketing campaigns for the Club. In 1994, she was named director of marketing, where her role expanded to include more strategic planning.

Pam became Vice President of Marketing in 1996, overseeing advertising, marketing and ticket sales areas for the Astros, with emphasis on growing general revenue areas. As the dream of a new ballpark began to become a reality for the team, her focus was shifted to include a leadership role in the design and development of Minute Maid Park. While working on the construction and marketing of the new facility, she continued overseeing marketing for the team.

Pam was named senior vice president of sales and marketing in 1999, and added sponsorship sales and marketing operations to her responsibilities. She spearheaded the advertising and marketing efforts for both the team and the new ballpark in its inaugural season, as the Astros began a new era of excitement for baseball fans in Houston and Texas. During that time, she led the development of the new logo and uniform design and implementation for 2000 and beyond. The club also set franchise attendance records in two consecutive seasons (1998-1999) in the Astrodome, in addition to the current franchise standard set in 2004 at Minute Maid Park.

Pam has also worked to make Minute Maid Park a destination for a multitude of events other than baseball games, including wedding receptions, concerts, corporate events, dinners and more. The stadium has played host to numerous charity events, including major fundraising efforts for the Houston Area Women's Center, the M.D. Anderson Cancer Center and Methodist Hospital. The annual Joe Neikro Knuckleball Gala is also held at Minute Maid Park.

Additionally, the Houston College Classic, a six-team tournament held annually at the ballpark, has developed into one of the premier early-season college baseball tournaments in the country.

The Astros in Action Foundation, which works to enhance the quality of life in the Houston community, has also increased its efforts under Pam's leadership in terms of both the volume of appearances the club makes in the community along with the amount of money donated to charitable projects through the Foundation. The Club's annual Race for the Pennant, Tommy Bahama Cowboy Classic and the Astros Alumni Golf Tournament are recent fundraising additions for the Foundation. In May of 2009, the Club hosted the inaugural "Pink in the Park" luncheon featuring Astros players and their mothers, which raised dollars for breast cancer research through the Astros in Action Foundation.

In September of 2009, the Astros broke ground for an Urban Youth Academy in Northwest Houston, in conjunction with State Representative Sylvester Turner, the City of Houston and Major League Baseball. The Academy, which is scheduled to open in April of 2010, will provide instruction and fields for underserved youth to hone both baseball and life skills.

Pam currently serves on the board of the Astros in Action Foundation, and is also a member of the board of the Houston Area Women's Center, which provides shelter and support services to survivors of domestic violence. Pam is a member of the board and Executive Committee of Central Houston, Inc., a private, non-profit organization supported by business institutions with the purpose of redeveloping and revitalizing downtown, and is a member of Texas Executive Women and Opportunity Houston/Greater Houston Partnership Executive Women's Partnership.

A native of Green Bay, Wisconsin and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Stout, Pam joined the Astros after working for ten years with an advertising and public relations agency in Chicago, serving her last five years as the vice president of the entertainment division.

Gardner has two children, Meaghan and Coleman Anderson.

On September 20, 2007, Ed Wade's long career in baseball came full circle when he was named the 11th general manager in Houston Astros franchise history. Ed, who was the Astros Public Relations Director 30 years ago, completed his second full season as Astros general manager in 2009. A veteran of 33 Major League seasons, Ed returned to the General Manager's seat after spending two years as a professional scout for the San Diego Padres. He previously served for eight seasons as the General Manager of the Philadelphia Phillies (1998-2005), having been named to that post on December 9, 1997.

Ed and his staff were busy in the offseason, acquiring several players that should play a significant role in 2010. During the winter meetings, the Astros acquired relievers Brandon Lyon (free agent) and Matt Lindstrom (via trade), both of whom are projected to work in the back end of the bullpen. Additionally, free agent third baseman Pedro Feliz, who has played in the last two World Series while with Philadelphia, was signed as well. Ed later added free agent starter Brett Myers to bolster the starting rotation.

However, Ed's most significant transaction of the offseason was the hiring of Brad Mills as the club's new manager. Mills, who has been in professional baseball for close to 30 years, enjoyed success as the bench coach for the Boston Red Sox during the last six seasons as part of two World Series Champions and five playoff teams overall.

Several of Ed's acquisitions while with the Astros have had a positive impact on the ballclub. In his first offseason, he acquired Jose Valverde and Miguel Tejada via trades. Valverde led the NL in saves in 2008 with a club-record 44 and tallied 69 saves combined in his two seasons with Houston. Tejada made the N.L. All-Star team in each of his two years with the Astros, and in 2009 had perhaps the finest season by a shortstop in franchise history, setting several club records along the way.

In 2008, Ed's first full season with Houston, the Astros won 86 games, a 13-game improvement from 2007 and the second-largest turnaround in franchise history.

As for acquisitions, Michael Bourn could very well be Ed's most significant. Bourn, who was acquired after the 2007 season in a trade with Philadelphia, had a breakout year in 2009. The center fielder/leadoff hitter led the NL in stolen bases with 61, bunt hits and infield hits and was tied for second in triples (12). Defensively, Bourn established himself as one of the top outfielders in baseball, winning a Rawlings Gold Glove Award in what was just his second full season in the Majors. For his efforts, Bourn was named the Astros MVP by the Houston chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Several of Ed's moves that did not make headlines when made have paid big dividends for the ballclub. LHP Tim Byrdak, who was signed as a minor league free agent in April of 2008, led the Astros in appearances in 2009 (76) and posted the lowest opponents average (.178) in the Majors among LHP (min. 150 batters faced). Ed has also had success finding players on the waiver wire. RHP Jeff Fulchino, who was clamied off waivers from KC in December of 2008, was tied for second in the NL in relief wins in 2009 and was third in innings by a reliever (82.0). RHP Alberto

FROMT OFFICE

Arias, claimed off waivers from COL on July 31, 2008, had the second-longest scoreless inning streak (21.1 innings) by a reliever in the NL in 2009. Also, RHP LaTroy Hawkins, who was acquired in a trade with the Yankees in August of 2008, had the second-lowest ERA (1.71) in the Majors while with Houston (2008-09).

Ed acquired a strong collection of talented players while with Philadelphia via the draft, trades and free agency. The majority of the players responsible for the Phillies three consecutive division titles (2007-2009) and World Series Championship (2008) were acquired under Ed's watch. During his tenure, the Phillies drafted future All-Stars such as Chase Utley, Randy Wolf and Cole Hamels and selected Shane Victorino in the Rule 5 Draft. Additionally, All-Stars Ryan Howard and Jimmy Rollins, back-to-back NL MVP's in 2006 and 2007, were drafted and developed while Ed was the Phillies GM.

Other players acquired during Ed's tenure include Michael Bourn, Pat Burrell, Ryan Madson and Carlos Ruiz. Ed also signed free-agent first baseman Jim Thome preceding the 2003 season, who hit 96 home runs for Philadelphia from 2003-05.

Both managers hired by Ed while with the Phillies also had their share of success. Larry Bowa, who was hired prior to the 2001 season, helped turn around a ballclub that had seen seven straight losing seasons. Bowa, who was 337-308 (.522) as manager, was named The Sporting News NL Manager of the Year in 2001 after guiding the Phils to 86 wins, a 21-game improvement over the previous season. Ed's second managerial hire, Charlie Manuel, has led the Phillies to three straight division titles (2007-2009) and just the second World Series championship in franchise history. Manuel's .552 winning pct. ranks fourth in that club's history.

The 54-year-old Wade began his baseball career in 1977 as an intern in the Phillies public relations department. That same season, in 1977, he was named public relations assistant for the Astros and was promoted to public relations director in 1979. In 1981, he left Houston to become the public relations director for the Pittsburgh Pirates, and he remained with that club for five seasons.

In 1986, Ed returned to Houston to work as an associate for Tal Smith Enterprises, a firm which has provided consulting services to 26 of the 30 Major League clubs. The most recognized functions have been in the preparation of arbitration cases, the financial appraisal of franchises, operational review, contract negotiations and other baseball-related matters. Ed worked for the company until May 5, 1989, when he rejoined the Phillies as assistant to the general manager. In 1995, he was promoted to assistant general manager, and he served in that role until assuming the general manager duties for Philadelphia in 1998.

Ed is a 1977 graduate of Temple University, where he played baseball and received his bachelor's degree in journalism. In 2003, Ed received the Lew Klein Alumni in the Media Award and was inducted into the Temple University and School of Communications Hall of Fame.

Ricky Bennett begins his sixth season with the Houston Astros as the assistant general manager and director of player development.

Ricky oversees the operation of the club's player development system and six minor league affiliates, while also fulfilling his duties as assistant general manager. In his first five seasons in Houston from 2005-09, 27 players from the club's minor league teams have made their Major League debuts. Ricky also assists General Manager Ed Wade with all aspects of Major League operations, including player trades and free-agent acquisitions, contract negotiations and coordination of Major League scouting efforts.

Before joining the Astros, Ricky spent eight years with the Detroit Tigers, including serving as the club's director of minor league operations for three seasons. He first joined the Tigers front office in 1997 as the assistant to baseball operations, and was promoted to assistant director of player development and scouting in 2002. He was originally hired by the club in 1996 as an area scout in the Southeast, covering Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and the Florida Panhandle.

Ricky was signed as a right-handed pitcher by the Chicago White Sox and played five years of professional baseball, including three seasons in the White Sox farm system (1992-94). He graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1992 with a degree in public administration and affairs and played for the OU baseball team, helping lead the Sooners to the 1992 College World Series.

A native of Cincinnati, Ohio, Ricky graduated from Cincinnati's Moeller High School where he was a teammate of Ken Griffey, Jr. He was named all-state in both baseball and football in 1988 when he was runner-up for the Athlete of the Year award in the state of Ohio.

He and his wife, Tracey, reside in Houston, with their two children, daughter Jessica (4/15/99), and son Ricky III (4/15/02).

David Gottfried begins his 12th year in Houston's baseball operations department and his fourth as assistant general manager, player relations, after being named to the post in December of 2006. David assists General Manager Ed Wade in all areas within the baseball operations department, including free agent and 40-man roster contract negotiations, Major League rule compliance and budgeting.

David was most recently the club's senior director of baseball operations, a position he was appointed to in January of 2005. In his role as senior director of baseball operations, he was involved in scouting, player research, contract negotiations, budgeting, visas, and affiliate relations. He joined the Astros in 1998 and spent two seasons as the club's baseball operations assistant. Before his stint in Modesto, he spent two seasons with the Arizona Fall League, including the league's inaugural season of 1992. He spent the 1992 season with the Grand Canyon Rafters as their director of operations and moved to the AFL league office in 1993 to assist with marketing and operations-related matters.

A native of Longmeadow, Mass., David received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Hofstra University in 1992. He and his wife, Tracy, reside in Manvel, Texas with their sons Benjamin and Connor and daughter Samantha.

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER/ DIRECTOR OF SCOUTING

On October 30, 2008, Bobby Heck was promoted to assistant general manager/director of scouting, and had his contract extended through 2010. Bobby had joined the Astros as the director of amateur scouting on October 24, 2007, from the Milwaukee Brewers organization, where he served for eight seasons as that club's Eastern Scouting Supervisor, including the drafts of 2000-07.

Bobby has had success in his first two drafts with the Astros, particularly with his first-round selections in both 2008 and 2009. Catcher Jason Castro, his first-round selection in '08, is widely considered Houston's top prospect after a 2009 season that saw him hit. 300 in what was his first full pro season, homer in the Annual All-Star Futures Game in St. Louis, win a Gold Medal as a member of Team USA in the World Cup and start at catcher in the Arizon-Fall League's Future Stars Game. Shortstop Jiovanni Mier, Bobby's 2009 first-round pick, was named by Baseball America as Houston #2 prospect, behind Castro.

While with the Brewers, Bobby helped to restock a minor league system that was ranked 30th overall by Baseball America in 2000. However, from 2003-07, the publication placed the Milwaukee minor league system in terms of talent in the top five among all organizations. In addition to the Eastern portion of the U.S., Bobby also scouted in Latin America for both free-agent and professional players as well as the Major Leagues and minor leagues. He also had national scouting responsibilities for the amateur ranks in addition to his supervisory role on the East Coast.

2010 is Dave Clark's second season as the Astros third base coach. Clark spent the majority of the 2009 season as third base coach before being named the Astros interim manager on Sept. 21, replacing Cecil Cooper. Clark managed the club's final 13 games, finishing with a 4-9 record.

Prior to joining the Astros Major League coaching staff, Clark spent six seasons as a minor league manager (2003-08), winning two league titles in that span while twice being named Manager of the Year in his respective league.

Clark enjoyed success in his very first season managing in 2003, guiding Class A Lynchburg to the Carolina League finals. He was recognized as the Carolina League Manager of the Year for his efforts. In 2004, he managed Pittsburgh's Class A Hickory club, guiding the Crawdads to an 85-55 record and the South Atlantic League title.

In 2005, Clark joined the Astros organization, taking over as manager of the Double A Corpus Christi Hooks, where he would remain for three seasons (2005-07). In 2006, he led the Hooks to the Texas League championship, earning that league's Manager of the Year honors and also served as a coach in the MLB All-Star Futures Game in Pittsburgh. Clark advanced to Triple A Round Rock in 2008, managing the Express to a 64-79 record and a 4th-place finish in their division.

Clark spent the 2000 season as the Triple A Nashville Sounds hitting coach, which was his first professional coaching assignment. After just one season as a minor league coach, Clark was hired as the Pirates Major League hitting coach, a post he would hold for the next two seasons (2001-02). Clark's next Major League coaching position was in 2009 with the Astros.

Clark played for the Indians (1986-89), Cubs (1990, 97), Royals (1991), Pirates (1992-96), Dodgers (1996) and Astros (1998) during his 13-year Major League playing career, compiling a .264 average with 62 home runs and 284 RBI in 905 career games. He made two postseason appearances, one of which was in the 1998 National League Division Series while with the Astros where he appeared in two games as a pinch-hitter (walked both times). Clark also appeared in two games for the Dodgers in the 1996 NLDS.

Clark was originally selected by Cleveland in the first round (11th overall pick) in the 1983 draft and made his Major League debut with the Indians in 1986.

He attended Jackson (MS) State University where he was the team's MVP and top hitter in both 1982 and 1983. He was inducted into the Jackson State Sports Hall of Fame in November 2000, joining the likes of Walter Payton, Jackie Slater and Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd. His brother, Louis, played seven years in the NFL with Seattle (1987-93) and Green Bay (1994).

He and his wife, Vivian, make their home in Collierville, Tenn., with their two daughters: Meki (25) and Kiki (23). He is a 1980 graduate of Shannon (MS) High School, and was 26-0 as a Golden Gloves boxer while in high school.

Biggio is the franchise's career leader in runs scored (1844) and hits (3060) and is the only player to reach the 3,000-hit plateau while wearing an Astros uniform. At the time of his retirment, he ranked 20th in Major League history in that category and is one of only nine players to reach the milestone while playing his entire career with the same team. Biggio also leads the franchise in doubles with 668. In 1998, Biggio joined Hall of Famer Tris Speaker as the only players in the 20th century to collect 50-or-more doubles and 50-or-more stolen bases in the same season. He followed his 1998 campaign by hitting 56 doubles in 1999, becoming just the sixth player in MLB history to have back-to-back 50-double seasons. Biggio has played more games (2850) than any other player in franchise history and has been hit by more pitches (285) than any player in modern history (since 1900). A seven-time All-Star, Biggio received five Silver Slugger Awards and four Gold Gloves. He is the only player in Major League history to make the All-Star team at both catcher and second base. Biggio played in a franchise record 20 seasons with the club, including 19 consecutive Opening Day starts (1989-2007). He remains a member of the Astros organization as a special assistant to the general manager.

On April 15, 1947, Jackie Robinson debuted at first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers, becoming the first African American in the 20th century to appear in a Major League Baseball uniform. He broke the color barrier, and quickly became one of the league's stars and a symbol of hope to millions of Americans. Known for his daring baserunning, Robinson stole home 19 times, and helped the Dodgers win the pennant in six of his 10 seasons. In 1949, he was named the National League MVP after batting .342 with 37 steals and 124 runs. And, in 1962, he became the first black player elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame. To mark the 50th anniversary of his historic

HISTORY & RECURDS

Colt Stadium served as the home to Houston's first Major League Baseball franchise: the Colt .45s. The outdoor, single-deck facility was constructed as a temporary home until a domed stadium would be completed. It was in operation for three seasons, from 1962-1964, and was witness to two no-hitters, both by the Colts: Don Nottebart in 1962 and Ken Johnson in 1963. High heat and humidity moved many games to late afternoon starts and pushed the National League to lift its ban on Sunday night games. It was located in what is now the Astrodome's north parking lot.

By the time the Astrodome opened on April 9, 1965, for an exhibition game between the Houston Astros and New York Yankees, it was already heralded as the "Eighth Wonder of the World." The largest structure of its kind and the world's first multi-purpose domed stadium, the Astrodome came to symbolize the futuristic home of professional sports in America. In honor of Houston's significance to the country's space program, it was appropriately named the Astrodome, and to maintain the theme, the Colt .45s were proudly renamed the Astros. AstroTurf was developed and installed to start the 1966 campaign after natural grass was unsuccessful. It served as the Astros home for 35 seasons.

DARRYL KILE GOOD GUY OF THE YEAR AWARD

In 2002, the Houston chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America created the Darryl Kile Good Guy of the Year Award, honoring an Astros player who exhibits "character and decency toward teammates, media, and fans." The award is named after the former Astros right-hander and 12-season Major League pitcher who passed away on June 22, 2002. It is designed to honor a player whose character traits reflect those of the late Kile. Astros first baseman Jeff Bagwell was the first recipient of the award. Kile played for the Astros from 1991-97, and also played for Colorado (1998-1999) and St. Louis (2000-02).

ELITE COMPANY

Jeff Bagwell hit 43 home runs and stole 31 bases in 1997. He also hit 42 HR with 30 SB in 1999. Bagwell joins Barry Bonds as the only two players in Major League history to record as many as two 40HR/30SB seasons. Jeff is also the only first baseman in Major League history with a "30-30" season, thanks to his efforts in 1997 and 1999.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER . CY YOUNG . ROOKIE OF THE YEAR

Jeff Bagwell is the only player in franchise history to win the Jackie Robinson National League Rookie of the Year and the NL Most Valuable Player. Astro pitchers have captured the NL Cy Young Award twice, Mike Scott in 1986 and Roger Clemens in 2004. Listed below are all Astros who finished in the top 10 of the NL MVP voting or received consideration in one year for the circuit's Cy Young and Rookie of the Year honors.

HOUSTON'S FIRST HOME RUNS

The first home run ever hit by a Houston player in the National League came on Opening Day in 1962, April 10. Roman Mejias connected off Chicago pitcher Don Cardwell in the third inning with two men on base. Mejias also homered off Al Lary in the eighth inning with two more men on to account for the third Colt .45s home run of the game. Hal Smith had hit one in the third inning.

The first opposition home run came in the seventh inning of the same game when the Cubs' Ernie Banks hit one off Bobby Shantz.

ASTROS HOME RUNS IN HOUSTON

On May 11, 1998, Jeff Bagwell hit his 98th Astrodome home run off the Marlins' Livan Hernandez to put the first baseman one ahead of outfielder Jimmy Wynn, whose 97 Houston homers was the most by any player in the history of the franchise. Bagwell eventually hit 126 home runs in the Astrodome before the Astros moved to Minute Maid Park in 2000. Wynn hit 93 of his roundtrippers in the Astrodome and four in Colt Stadium during his 11-year career which lasted from 1963-73. And, speaking of Colt Stadium, the record for Houston homers in that facility stands at 21 by Bob Aspromonte. Lance Berkman is the active club leader in home runs hit at Minute Maid Park, with 144.

JULY 30, 2005*

Nine of the top 10 crowds in Minute Maid Park history can be attributed to one particular event, whether it be an Opening Day or an individual player's achievement. The exception occured on July 30, 2005, and the explanation for the crowd has many factors: entering the game, the Astros were going for their seventh straight victory, and their 13th win in their last 14 games. The game prior, Houston had defeated the Mets and moved themself into first place in the NL Wild Card chase. This was a monumental step for the 2005 club, which had began the season with a 15-30 record. The series against the Mets also represented the return of Carlos Beltran, who had spurned the Astros contract offer the prior offseason and signed with New York instead. To top it off, on this Saturday night the club gave away Jose Cruz figurines to the first 10,000 fans in attendance.

1980 NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

PHILADELPHIA......3 GAMES HOUSTON ......2 GAMES

In one of the best League Championship Series in baseball history, the Phillies took the opener 3-1 on the series' only home run - Greg Luzinski's two-run blast in the sixth inning. Game 1 was the only game without extra innings.

The Astros evened the series in Game 2 - breaking a 3-3 tie with four runs in the 10th - and took the series lead in a Game 3 pitchers' duel that featured 10 shutout innings from Houston's Joe Niekro. Reliever Dave Smith continued the shutout and took the win as Joe Morgan's triple and Denny Walling's sacrifice fly off Phillie ace reliever Tug McGraw scored the game's only run in the bottom of the 11th.

The Phillies rebounded with their own set of extra-inning victories. In Game 4, a single and two doubles pushed across two go-ahead runs in the top of the 10th, and McGraw preserved the edge for his second series save. And in the finale, which featured three lead changes, Del Unser scored on Garry Maddox's 10th-inning double and Dick Ruthven held off Houston to bring the Phillies their first pennant in 30 years.

1981 NATIONAL LEAGUE WEST DIVISION SERIES

LOS ANGELES . . . . . . . . . . 3 GAMES HOUSTON ...... 2 GAMES

Because of a midseason player strike that forced a complete shutdown of Major League Baseball for almost two months, a split-season format and a new tier of playoffs were created after the work stoppage ended. This new format matched the Astros against the Los Angeles Dodgers for a best-of-five National League West Division Series.

Behind Nolan Ryan's pitching and Alan Ashby's two-run homer in the ninth inning, the Astros took a 3-1 victory in Game 1. Houston then took a 2-0 series lead with a 1-0 triumph in Game 2 as Denny Walling stroked a pinch-hit single with the bases loaded and two out in the 11th inning.

Back in their familiar L.A. surroundings, the Dodgers managed to take control of the remainder of the series. They erupted for three first-inning runs in Game 3 and coasted to a 6-1 victory as three pitchers combined on a threehitter.

Game 4 turned out to be a pitcher's battle. Neither the Dodgers nor the Astros put a runner on base in the first four innings as Fernando Valenzuela and Vern Ruhle were in complete command. Both pitchers allowed four hits in the game, but Pedro Guerrero belted a solo homer in the fifth and Bill Russell added an RBI single in the seventh to give the Dodgers a 2-1 victory that evened the series at two games apiece.

Another pitching struggle ensued in Game 5. Nolan Ryan dominated the Dodgers until the sixth inning, when L.A. put together a three-run rally. Los Angeles starter Jerry Reuss threw a fivehit shutout in the 4-0 victory.

1986 NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

NEW YORK......4 GAMES HOUSTON ......2 GAMES

Houston pitcher Mike Scott defeated the Mets in Games 1 and 4 and would have faced them a third time in Game 7 if the Astros had won Game 6. Houston scored three runs in the first as Bob Knepper shut out the Mets on two hits through eight innings. But in the top of the ninth, New York tied the game and sent the game to extra innings. No one scored again until the Mets put a run across in the 14th. Astro Billy Hatcher tied it up again later in the 14th with a home run just inside the left field foul pole. Two innings later, the Mets scored three runs. The Astros scored twice in the 16th, but fell just short as Jesse Orosco struck out Kevin Bass with two men on base to win his third game of the series and give New York the pennant.

In the series opener, Houston scored just one run off Dwight Gooden. The one run was plenty, as Mike Scott tossed a five-hit shutout and struck out 14. New York came back with five runs in Game 2 to win behind Bob Ojeda, who gave up 10 hits but only one run. In Game 3, the Astros held the lead into the last of the sixth, when New York tied the score with four runs. Houston retook the lead in the seventh with a run, but Lenny Dykstra won it for New York with a two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth.

The Astros win in Game 4 evened the series. Houston scored three runs by the time Scott allowed the Mets' only run of the game. Houston's Nolan Ryan gave up only two hits in the first nine innings of Game 5 while striking out 12, but New York's Gooden also yielded only one run in 10 innings of work. Astros pitcher Charlie Kerfeld shut out the Mets in the 10th and the 11th, and the Mets' Orosco stopped Houston in the 11th and 12th. In the bottom of the 12th, Mets' catcher Gary Carter's RBI single off Kerfeld ended the game and set the stage for the 16-inning marathon the next day.

1997 NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

ATLANTA ...... 3 GAMES HOUSTON ...... 0 GAMES

After winning their first-ever National League Central title and their first division crown in 11 years, the Astros were swept in the NL Division Series by Atlanta. Despite a two-hit effort by Darryl Kile in Game 1, Houston fell victim to Braves ace Greg Maddux, who gave up only seven hits on his way to a 2-1 victory. Kenny Lofton's bloop double in the first inning manufactured into a run after two fly outs and teamed with Ryan Klesko's solo home run on the first pitch of the second inning for all the scoring Atlanta would need to win the opener.

In Game 2, a struggling offensive trio of Craig Biggio, Derek Bell and Jeff Bagwell, along with an uncharacteristic fit of wildness from starter Mike Hampton, led to a 13-3 Houston loss that put the Braves within one game of clinching the series. The Astros fell behind early, 3-0, but a two-run double by Brad Ausmus sparked a fourth-inning rally that temporarily tied the score. The Braves then scored a run after walking the bases loaded which opened the floodgates to a huge Atlanta rally.

John Smoltz dominated the Astros with a three-hit performance in Game 3 to seal the Atlanta victory and the sweep of the series. He struck out 11 batters on his way to his 10th post-season win, tying Whitey Ford and Dave Stewart for the Major League record in that category.

SAN DIEGO ......3 GAMES HOUSTON ......1 GAME

The Astros 1998 season will be remembered as one of the most successful in the organization's 37-year history. The postseason, however, was a disappointment, as the Astros were eliminated in the National League Division Series.

The club entered the playoffs as the most feared team in the NL, featuring the league's most prolific offense and newly-acquired ace lefthander Randy Johnson. But four games later it was the San Diego Padres who advanced while the Astros went home.

Johnson, who was 10-1 with a 1.28 ERA in 11 starts after being acquired in a July 31 trade with the Mariners, lost both of his postseason starts despite a 1.93 ERA. The Houston offense managed just eight runs in the series.

After Kevin Brown shut down the Astros' offense in Game 1, Houston bounced back in Game 2 to beat 5an Diego 5-4, thanks to late-inning heroics by third baseman Bill Spiers. Games 3 and 4, however, belonged to the Padres, who ended the series on their home field at Qualcomm Stadium to advance to the NLCS.

1999 NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

ATLANTA ...... 3 GAMES HOUSTON ...... 1 GAME

The Astros billed 1999 as a season to remember, as the team played their 35th and final season in the Astrodome. Unfortunately for the Astros, the final memory of baseball in the Astrodome is the loss in the Division Series to the Atlanta Braves. After winning Game 1 in Atlanta, 6-1, the Braves returned the favor the next day behind a one-hit gem by Kevin Millwood en route to a 5-1 victory. A 12-inning, 5-3 heartbreaking loss to the Braves in Game 3 gave Atlanta a two games to one lead entering the fourth and decisive game. Despite a come-from-behind effort during which the Astros erased a 7-0 deficit to inch within two runs of the Braves. Houston fell just short of sending the series to a Game 5, as the final box score in the last game to ever be played at the Astrodome read Atlanta 7, Houston 5.

ZOUT NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

ATLANTA ...... 3 GAMES HOUSTON ...... 0 GAMES

The Atlanta Braves combined outstanding pitching performances with timely hitting en route to a three-game sweep over Houston in the 2001 National League Division Series. Atlanta starters posted a 1.77 ERA in three games while John Smoltz saved two of the three wins and the Braves bullpen as a whole allowed only one run in 6.2 innings pitched. Houston took a 3-2 lead in Game 1, but Chipper Jones' three-run home run in the top of the eighth propelled Atlanta to a 7-4 win. In Game 2, Atlanta's Tom Glavine and John Smoltz combined to shut out the Astros while a second-inning error allowed the only run the Braves would need in a 1-0 win. The Braves closed out the series back in Atlanta with a 6-2 Game Three win that included home runs from Atlanta's Paul Bako, Julio Franco, and Chipper Jones, his second homer of the series.

ZOD4 NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

HOUSTON	d							.3	GAMES
ATLANTA .	·							.2	GAMES

The Astros won their first playoff series in franchise history, defeating longtime playoff nemesis Atlanta in five games. Carlos Beltran homered twice and Houston exploded for 17 hits in a 12-3 win over the Braves in the deciding Game 5. Beltran collected four hits and drove in five runs in the clincher while hitting .455 with four home runs and nine RBI in the entire series, a series which saw the Astros set virtually every team offensive playoff record. Beltran became the second player in postseason history to drive in at least five runs in a clinching game.

The Astros scored four in the third and three in the fifth to win the series opener at Atlanta 9-3. Beltran, Jason Lane, Lance Berkman, and Brad Ausmus homered in the win, while Roger Clemens recorded career playoff victory number nine by allowing three runs in seven innings.

Atlanta evened the series in Game 2 on Rafael Furcal's two-run home run in the 11th against Dan Miceli. Roy Oswalt allowed one run in 6.1 innings in the loss, while Raul Chavez went 2x3 with a home run. Houston took a 2-1 advantage in the series in Game 3 in Houston, winning 8-5 thanks to a three-run sixth, a Beltran home run, and three RBI from Morgan Ensberg. Brandon Backe earned the win in his first playoff start and Brad Lidge earned the save.

The Braves knotted the series at two games apiece, scoring once in the ninth to win a 6-5 decision. Andruw Jones had three hits and Adam LaRoche three RBI in the Atlanta win, while Craig Biggio was 3x4 with a home run and three RBI. Russ Springer allowed the ninth-inning run to suffer the loss.

The series moved back to Atlanta for Game 5, which is where the Astros exploded for 12 runs and 17 hits to clinch the 2004 NLDS series victory.

ZOD4 NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

ST. LOUIS 4 GAMES	١
HOUSTON 3 GAMES	4

The Astros came within one game of their first trip to the World Series but fell just short, losing the 2004 NLCS to St. Louis in seven games. Home runs by Albert Pujols and Scott Rolen against Houston starter Roger Clemens were the difference in the clincher, a 5-2 Redbird win at Busch Stadium that sent St. Louis to its first World Series since 1987. Offensively in the NLCS, Carlos Beltran paced Houston with a .417 average, four home runs, and eight RBI. Beltran's eight home runs in the 2004 playoffs tied Barry Bonds for the most in a single postseason. Lance Berkman homered three times and drove in nine runs, while Jeff Kent also hit three home runs while plating seven runners.

All seven games of the series were won by the home club, including 10-7 and 6-4 wins, respectively, by St. Louis in Games 1 and 2. The Cardinals scored six in the sixth in Game 1 (including five against Chad Qualls), while two runs in the bottom of the eighth against Astros reliever Dan Miceli gave Julian Tavarez the win and the Redbirds a 2-0 series lead.

Roger Clemens earned the win in Game 3, with Kent, Beltran, and Berkman each homering in a 5-2 Astros victory. The Astros overcame a 5-3 deficit in Game 4, scoring two in the seventh and one in the eighth en route to a 6-5 win that gave Dan Wheeler his first postseason victory.

Game 5 was perhaps the most exciting in Astros playoff history, with Jeff Kent's three-run home run in the bottom of the ninth, breaking a scoreless tie and propelling Houston to a 3-0 victory and a 3-2 series lead. Brandon Backe allowed only one hit and three baserunners in eight scoreless innings, while Kent's homer gave Brad Lidge the win after the right-hander recorded saves in Games 4 and 5.

Jim Edmonds' two-run home run in the 12th off Miceli allowed the Redbirds to even the series at three games apiece with a 6-4 St. Louis victory. Jeff Bagwell had three hits and two RBI in the loss, while Mike Lamb homered for Houston in a losing cause. In the deciding Game 7, Clemens allowed four runs and six hits in six innings, and the St. Louis bullpen held the lead for Jeff Suppan as the Cardinals advanced to the World Series.

ZOOS NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

HOUSTON ..... GAMES ATLANTA ...... 1 GAME

The Astros knocked Atlanta out of the playoffs for the second season in a row as Houston won the 2005 NLDS in four games. Chris Burke and Roger Clemens emerged as the heroes of clinching Game 4, the longest in postseason history. In the bottom of the 18th inning, Burke snapped a 6-6 tie and won the game with a solo home run, ending an eight-inning scoreless streak by both teams. Clemens earned the win after pitching three scoreless innings, on three day's rest in his first relief appearance in 21 years. Lance Berkman socked an eighth-inning grand slam to bring the Astros within one run, and with two outs in the bottom of the ninth, Brad Ausmus sent the contest into extra-innings with a game-tying solo home run. The decisive Game 4 lasted a postseason-record five hours and 50 minutes and the teams used an NLDSrecord 42 combined players.

A five-run outburst in the eighth inning made Game 1 a blowout in the Astros favor, as Houston took a 1-0 series advantage with a 10-5 win. Morgan Ensberg led the attack with five RBI and three hits while Andy Pettitte earned the win. Craig Biggio doubled and scored three times as the Astros banged out 11 hits.

Atlanta secured its only win in Game 2 as the Braves scored five times off losing pitcher Roger Clemens in a 7-1 contest. Brian McCann hit a three-run homer and Adam LaRoche belted a two-run double as the Braves evened the series at one game apiece. John Smoltz allowed one run over seven innings and set a Major League record with his 15th postseason

Roy Oswalt pitched into the eighth inning of Game 3 and earned the win as the Astros took a 2-1 lead in the series. Houston set an NLDS record with seven doubles, including three by Craig Biggio, tying a postseason record. Mike Lamb broke a 2-2 tie in the third inning and put the Astros ahead for good with his third career postseason home run.

2005 NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

HOUSTON ......4 GAMES ST. LOUIS ......2 GAMES

Houston advanced to its first World Series after 44 years as the Astros defeated the Cardinals 4-2 in the 2005 NLCS. Roy Oswalt earned MVP honors as he picked up wins in Game 2 and the decisive Game 6. Oswalt allowed only two runs in the series, going 2-0 with a 1.29 ERA and 12 strikeouts in 14 innings. Craig Biggio led the Astros with eight hits in the series and Chris Burke led the team with five runs scored.

Game 6 was decided in St. Louis, with Oswalt allowing three hits over seven innings to earn the win. Houston had 11 hits, including a home run by Jason Lane, in the 5-1 clinching game. Brad Ausmus went 3x4 in the contest and finished with a .318 NLCS average.

In Game 5, the Astros led 4-2 in the ninth and were on the verge of advancing to the club's first World Series when Albert Pujols smashed a three-run home run off Brad Lidge, giving the Cardinals a 5-4 comeback win. The blast by Pujols forced Game 6 and gave Lidge his first career postseason loss after going 1-0 with six saves to start his October career. Lance Berkman gave the Astros the lead in the seventh with a three-run home run off Chris Carpenter before St. Louis mounted its comeback.

St. Louis won the opening game of the series by a score of 5-3, but the Astros bounced back with wins in Games 2, 3 and 4 to take a 3-1 advantage overall. Reggie Sanders shined for the Cardinals in Game 1, with a home run and two RBI, as Andy Pettitte took the loss. Oswalt earned the win and Chris Burke homered in Game 2 as the Astros knocked off St. Louis 4-1. Brad Lidge earned a two-inning save and struck out three of the seven batters he faced.

Roger Clemens allowed two runs over six innings and was the winning pitcher in Game 3. Mike Lamb led the Astros offense, going 2x4 with a double, a home run, two RBI and two runs scored. Astros batters managed 11 hits and Lidge nailed down his second save of the series.

After trailing 1-0 in the fourth inning, the Astros battled back to win Game 4, 2-1. Jason Lane tied the contest at one with a solo home run in the fourth and Morgan Ensberg put the Astros ahead with a sacrifice fly in the seventh. Chad Qualls entered in the seventh and earned the win with a perfect inning of work. Lidge closed out the game and picked up his third save of the series.

ZOOS HOUSTON ASTROS MAKE FIRST TRIP TO WORLD SERIES

The 2005 season was a magical and historic season for the Houston Astros, as the team won its first National League Championship and advanced to the World Series for the first time.

For the second consecutive season, the Astros clinched the National League Wild Card berth on the final day of the regular season. Brad Lidge recorded his 42nd save of the year on October 2 at Minute Maid Park as Houston beat the Cubs 6-4 to end the season and clinch a playoff spot.

The historic season had an inauspicious beginning, however, as the Astros began the 2005 campaign with a 15-30 record through their first 45 games. On May 25, the club's reversal of fortune began as Houston and Brandon Backe defeated the Chicago Cubs and Greg Maddux at Wrigley Field 5-1, beginning a 44-18 run that was the best in the Majors and carried the Astros back into the pennant race. The run included a franchise-record-tying 22 wins in July (22-7, .759).

In the 2004 postseason, the Houston franchise won its first playoff series in history by defeating the Atlanta Braves in five games in the Division Series. The club then fell to St. Louis in seven games in the NLCS. The 2005 playoffs were a different story, as the Astros would reach heights the franchise had not previously attained.

The 2005 NL Division Series would put the Astros in a rematch of the 2004 clash with Atlanta. A familiar foe in the postseason, the Braves would be Houston's opponent in the first round for the fifth time in Houston's last six playoff appearances since 1997. The series would have a historic ending, and it would be in Houston's favor.

The Astros took a 1-0 series lead with a 10-5 win at Turner Field, thanks to the 14th career playoff win from Andy Pettitte, a fiverun eighth inning, and five RBI from Morgan Ensberg. The 10 runs overshadowed a strong "small ball" performance by Houston, as the club became the ninth team and the first since 1974 to record four sacrifice bunts in one game. The Braves would tie the series after a 7-1 win in Game 2, as John Smoltz turned in a strong performance while facing Astros starter Roger Clemens.

The series journeyed to Minute Maid Park, where the Astros carried a 3-2 lead into the seventh inning of Game 3. Six consecutive Houston hitters reached base against the Atlanta bullpen in the seventh, with four scoring to give the Astros a comfortable lead they would never relinquish. Roy Oswalt earned the win in Houston's 7-3 victory, scattering six hits and three runs over 7.1 innings. Houston needed one more win to advance to the LCS for the second consecutive season. What happened next would be one of the most memorable and unique games in postseason history.

By the time the eighth inning rolled around, many in the stands and both dugouts were looking ahead to a trip to Atlanta for another Game 5, the exact scenario that transpired one year before. Atlanta had a seemingly insurmountable 6-1 lead, but what no one knew is that this contest had another three hours left, thanks to Lance Berkman, Brad Ausmus, and some tremendous bullpen work by both clubs.

The longest postseason game in Major League history turned in the bottom of the eighth, when with a 2-1 count and the bases loaded, Atlanta closer Kyle Farnsworth decided to challenge Berkman. The tall right-hander likely had a different result in mind, as Berkman drove the fastball to left field and into the Crawford Boxes for the first postseason grand slam hit by an Astro in franchise history.

HISTORY & RECORDS

It still appeared that Atlanta would win the game, as the Braves clung to a 6-5 lead heading into the ninth. Jason Lane grounded out to third and Jose Vizcaino struck out for two quick outs. One could have easily surmised in two hours, the Astros would be on a flight to Atlanta.

Actually, everyone would still be in the ballpark, thanks to Ausmus.

Ausmus launched a 2-0 Farnsworth pitch to left-center field, and the ball hit the façade above the yellow line, narrowly escaping center fielder Jones's outstretched glove for a solo home run that tied the score at 6-6. The game that was one out away from ending had changed on one swing of the bat.

After a 10th-inning rally fell short, Houston would not have another hit until the game-winner in the 18th. And around the 15th, after a tremendous three-inning effort by Dan Wheeler and the score still deadlocked at 6-6 after 15 innings, a certain right-hander began warming in the Astros bullpen.

It would have been plausible to suggest that there was nothing left for Roger Clemens to accomplish in his career at that point. After throwing 92 pitches in the Game 2 loss three days earlier, the 43-year-old Clemens not only appeared in relief but made the first pinch-hit appearance of his career in the 15th for Wheeler. He advanced Biggio on a sacrifice bunt before the next two hitters were retired. It was Clemens' first relief appearance since as a rookie with Boston on July 18, 1984, and the Rocket would pitch three scoreless innings, throwing a fastball clocked in the mid-90's and showing no effects from the Game 2 loss (and 92-pitch outing) just three days earlier.

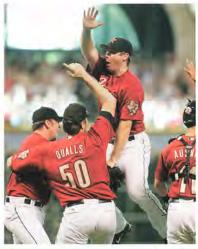

Facing Joey Devine, who was the closer for North Carolina State University just four months earlier, Chris Burke deposited a 2-0 fastball into the Crawford Boxes, giving Houston a 7-6 win and ending the longest game in playoff history at five hours, 50 minutes.

In addition to sending the Minute Maid Park crowd into a frenzy and the Astros to the NLCS for the second consecutive season, Burke became the sixth player in postseason history and the first rookie to end a playoff series with a walk-off home run, according to the Elias Sports Bureau.

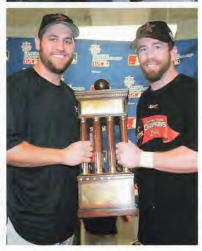

The previous longest playoff game had also been held in Houston, the classic 1986 Game 6 at the Astrodome when the Astros fell to the eventual World Champion New York Mets, 7-6 in 16 innings. The "Greatest Game Ever Played," according to one book penned about that game, had been eclipsed in terms of innings. And perhaps in terms of greatness as well.

The abundance of remarkable statistics surrounding this game are too numerous to mention. However, to list a few (many of these are courtesy of Elias):

- The Astros used 23 players, a Division Series record.
- The 5:50 time of game eclipsed the 2004 ALCS Game 4 record by one minute (5:49).
- The 42 combined players were the most used in a DS game and the 14 total pitchers tied the previous standard.
- Houston went hitless from Berkman's double in the 10th until Burke's game-ending homer in the 18th.
- The same fan, Sean Dean of Porter, Texas, caught both Berkman's grand slam in the eighth AND Burke's walkoff.
- It was the first game in playoff history with two grand slams (LaRoche and Berkman).
- As Jim Molony from MLB.COM wrote, the matchup between Franco and Clemens featured "90 years on this earth and 42 years of Major League experience."
- The Braves went 1-for-18 with runners in scoring position, leaving a Division Series-record 18 runners on base.
  - The Astros became the third team and the first since the 1993 Blue Jays to win a playoff game after trailing by five runs or more entering the eighth.
- Ausmus' home run in the ninth made him the fifth player in postseason history to tie a game with a home run with two outs in the bottom of the ninth inning.
- 553 pitches were thrown.
- Clemens became the pitcher with the second most regular-season wins (341) before recording his first relief postseason victory, trailing only Walter Johnson (377), who accomplished the feat in 1914 in the lone Washington Senators' World Series win in franchise history.

The Astros were on to St. Louis, where Chris Carpenter outdueled Pettitte in Game 1 for a 5-3 St. Louis win. Houston evened the series behind seven dominant innings from Roy Oswalt in Game 2, taking a 4-1 victory. With the series moving back to Minute Maid Park, Mike Lamb was the hero with a home run and a double in a 4-3 win. Clemens tossed six strong innings and Lidge recorded his second save of the LCS.

The Houston bullpen was the difference in a 2-1, Game 4 win, as after 5.2 innings from Brandon Backe, four Astros relievers combined to pitched 3.1 scoreless innings, culminating with another Lidge save. Jason Lane homered in the fourth and Ensberg hit a sacrifice fly in the seventh for the only two runs Houston would need.

A three-run homer by Berkman in the bottom of the fifth in Game 5 gave the Astros a 4-2 lead. However, St. Louis would delay Houston's World Series dreams another couple of days, as Albert Pujols hit a three-run home run against Lidge to give the Redbirds a 5-4 win and send the series back to Busch Stadium.

Two days later, Oswalt hosted a going-away party for the Cardinals home, as the NLCS MVP allowed three hits and one run in seven innings. The Astros were National League Champions for the first time ever, as a 5-1 victory sent a Texas team to the World Series for the first time. Oswalt was 2-0 with a 1.29 ERA in the series, while Craig Biggio led the team with eight hits in the series and Burke paced the club with five runs scored.

The Astros would now appear in their first Fall Classic, traveling to Chicago to face the American League's best, the White Sox. Clemens started for Houston in Game 1 but was forced to leave with a left hamstring strain after allowing four hits and three runs in two innings. Lamb would hit the first home run by an Astro in World Series history, and after three innings, the game was tied at 3-3.

Joe Crede homered in the fourth and Chicago added one more in the eighth against Russ Springer, and the White Sox won Game 1, 5-3. Andy Pettitte pitched six strong innings in Game 2, and Houston owned a 4-2 lead heading into the seventh. Slugger Paul Konerko changed that with a grand slam against Chad Qualls in the seventh, but Jose Vizcaino's pinch-hit single scored Jeff Bagwell and Burke to tie the game at 6-6 in the top of the ninth. However, Scott Podsednik would end Game 2 with a walk-off home run against Lidge, and a 7-6 Chicago win gave them a 2-0 series edge.

Already owning the longest game in postseason, Division Series, and League Championship Series history, the Astros completed the cycle by playing the longest game in World Series history on Tuesday, October 25. The game was also the first Fall Classic contest played in the state of Texas.

The Astros raced to a 4-0 lead after scoring one run in the first and fourth and two in the third inning of Game 3 against Chicago's Jon Garland. The lead evaporated in the fifth, however, as the White Sox scored five runs against Houston starter Oswalt. Lane tied the game against Dustin Hermanson in the eighth with a home run. Both offenses then went silent until the 14th inning, when a familiar face placed Houston in a deep hole.

With right-handed rookie Ezequiel Astacio on the mound, former Astro Geoff Blum homered to right field to give Chicago the lead. The White Sox added another in the 14th, and then Game 2 starter Mark Buehrle pitched the bottom frame to save the game and give Chicago a 3-0 series lead.

World Series MVP Jermaine Dye was responsible for the only run production in the series-clinching Game 4, driving in Willie Harris with a ground-ball single to center field in the eighth against Lidge. Brandon Backe had started for the Astros and pitched seven shutout innings to keep the game deadlocked until Dye's hit in the eighth.

The 1-0 victory clinched the White Sox first World Championship since 1959 and ended the Astros World Series hopes in 2005.

But despite falling short in the World Series, the 2005 Houston Astros team reached heights not previously attained, and set a standard of excellence and resilience for future clubs to aspire to.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX .....4 GAMES HOUSTON ...... 0 GAMES

National League Champions for the first time in club history, the Houston Astros fell short in their first World Series appearance against the Chicago White Sox. For the series, the Astros were outscored just 20-14 in four games, marking the lowest run-differential in a World Series sweep since 1950. Two of the four games were decided by two runs and two were decided by a lone run, including the series finale. In Game 4. World Series MVP Jermaine Dye, singled home the game's only run in the eighth inning to make the score 1-0. Brandon Backe battled through seven scoreless frames, but Brad Lidge took the loss, falling to 0-2 in the World Series

Roger Clemens had to exit Game 1 in the second inning with a left hamstring strain as the Astros lost 5-3. Mike Lamb homered and Lance Berkman tied the game early with a two-run double, but Joe Crede put the Sox ahead for good with a home run in the fourth. Jose Contreras nailed down the win for Chicago and Bobby Jenks earned his first save of the series.

Game 2 was decided in the bottom of the ninth inning on a Scott Podsednik home run. With the game tied at six and the Astros two outs away from forcing extra innings, Podsednik hit a home run off Lidge, glving the White Sox a 2-0 lead in the series. Morgan Ensberg homered in the second and Berkman drove in two runs to stake the Astros to a 4-2 advantage, but Houston lost its lead on Paul Konerko's seventh-inning grand slam.

After five hours and 41 minutes and 14 innings, the Astros lost the longest game (time; tied in terms of innings) in World Series history by a score of 7-5. The Astros spotted Roy Oswalt four runs in the first three innings, but Oswalt was unable to hold the lead as the White Sox rallied for five runs in the fifth. Jason Lane hit a home run and drove in two, including the tying run off Dustin Hermanson in the eighth. Chad Qualls tossed three innings of scoreless relief before Ezequiel Astacio allowed Geoff Blum's game-winning homer in the 14th. The Astros pitching staff had gone eight consecutive innings without allowing a run.

ALL-STAR GAME #39 ASTRODOME. HOUSTON JULY 9. 1968

The 1968 All-Star Game reflected overpowering pitching. The two leagues combined for only eight hits and just one run, marking the first 1-0 contest in the history of the Midsummer Classic. The lone run – by the National League – was scored in the first inning on a single, an error, a wild pitch, and a double play.

Playing for the injured Pete Rose, Willie Mays led off in the bottom of the first and singled to left field. In a failed pick-off at first, Luis Tiant's (CLE) throw went wild, advancing Mays to second. Curt Flood (STL) was then walked, and a fourth-ball wild pitch moved Mays to third. First baseman Willie McCovey (SF) grounded into a double play, but Mays took advantage to score the only run of the game.

With the victory, the NL stretched its winning streak to six. The six-man NL pitching staff held the AL to just three hits, as Tom Seaver (NYM) tossed five strikeouts late in the game and Juan Marichal pitched two perfect innings. Nine pitchers in the game did not allow a single walk.

The game was the first played indoors and on an artificial surface, as many players got their first look at the Astrodome.

1968 ALL-STAR GAME

The 1968 All-Star Game in Houston was the first played indoors and on artificial turf.

ALL-STAR GAME#57 ASTRODOME, HOUSTON JULY 15, 1986

Los Angeles left-hander Fernando Valenzuela fanned five consecutive batters to tie Carl Hubbell's 52-year-old All-Star record, but the National League's pitching triumphs weren't enough as the American League recorded the 3-2 victory on two home runs.

The NL pitching staff sat down 12 total batters, but the AL's Roger Clemens (BOS) had a strong night of his own. He tossed three perfect innings which included just three balls and 21 strikes. The AL bats came through at the same time as second baseman Lou Whitaker (DET) followed a Dave Winfield (NYY) double with a two-run shot off Dwight Gooden (NYM) in the second. In the seventh inning, Frank White (KC) came in to pinch-hit for Whitaker, knocking an 0-2 pitch from Mike Scott (HOU) over the left-center field wall to seal the AL's second All-Star win in the 1980s.

Valenzuela tied the 1934 record for consecutive strikeouts, sitting down (in order): Don Mattingly, Cal Ripken, Jesse Barfield, Whitaker, and Ted Higuera.

ALL-STAR GAME #75 MINUTE MAID PARK, HOUSTON JULY 13, 2004

The American League displayed its offensive prowess early, scoring six runs in the first inning en route to a 9-4 win over the National League in the third All-Star Game played in Houston and the first at Minute Maid Park.

Astros right-hander Roger Clemens, who also started the 1986 All-Star Game in Houston, allowed six runs and five hits in suffering the loss. Clemens allowed two first-inning homers, to Manny Ramirez (BOS) and Alfonso Soriano (TEX). Mark Mulder (OAK) pitched two innings and allowed one run to earn the win. Soriano was named the game's Most Valuable Player after finishing 2x3 with three RBI. Soriano was the first leading vote-getter to also earn MVP honors in the same season.

The National League cut the lead to 7-4 with a three-run fourth, including an RBI double by Edgar Renteria (STL) and a two-run double by Albert Pujols (STL). David Ortiz' (BOS) homer against Carl Pavano (FLA) in the sixth ended the game's scoring.

The AL pitching staff held the NL scoreless through the final five innings, thanks to scoreless efforts from Javier Vazquez (NYY), Ted Lilly (TOR), Joe Nathan (MIN), Tom Gordon (NYY), Francisco Rodriguez (ATL), and Mariano Rivera (NYY).

The American League won its seventh consecutive victory, not counting the 2002 tie at Miller Park in Milwaukee. The NL remained winless since 1996.

BURT HOOTON

PITCHING COACH. ROUND ROCK

Burt Hooton returns to Triple A Round Rock for a sixth season, following parts of five seasons (2000-04) as the pitching coach for the Houston Astros. Hooton previously served as the pitching coach for the Express in 2000 after four seasons as the pitching coach for the University of Texas, his alma mater, from 1996-99. The pitchers who flourished for the Astros during Hooton's tenure include Roy Oswalt, Brad Lidge, Wade Miller, Octavio Dotel, Ricky Stone and Jeriome Robertson.

Hooton played in the Major Leagues for 15 years with the Chicago Cubs (1971-75), Los Angeles Dodgers (1975-84) and Texas (1985). On April 16, 1972, as a 22-year-old rookie in his fourth big league start over two seasons, he threw a no-hitter for the Cubs against Philadelphia. In 15 big league seasons, Hooton compiled a 151-136 record (.526) with 1,491 strikeouts over 2,652 innings. Over 11 postseason games, Hooton was 6-3 with a 3.17 ERA. He was 3-3 in six World Series outings, posting a 3.70 ERA. Hooton was the winning pitcher in the clinching Game 6 of the 1981 World Series for the Dodgers over the Yankees, and he finished the '81 postseason with a 4-1 mark and a 0.82 ERA in five starts.

Following his junior year at UT, Hooton was drafted by the Chicago Cubs in the secondary phase of the 1971 draft and made his Major League debut nine days later. He fanned his first batter, Lou Brock, and went on to set a Cubs rookie record by striking out 15 batters in a game later that season. Hooton is one of just 17 players since the draft era began in 1965 to advance directly to the big leagues after being selected.

After finishing his playing career with the Texas Rangers in 1985, Hooton began his coaching career with Class A Salem of the Northwest League from 1988-89. He served as the pitching coach for Double A San Antonio of the Dodgers organization from 1990-94, and coached the 1995 season with Triple A Albuquerque.

Hooton went 15-1 to lead Corpus Christi's Richard King High School to the Texas state title as a high school pitcher before beginning his career with the Longhorns. His dominating tenure at Texas culminated in a 35-3 record and 1,14 ERA. He is among UT's all-time pitching leaders in almost every category, including 13 career shutouts. He was the first pitcher ever to be named First Team All-American three consecutive seasons (1969-71).

"Happy" Hooton and his wife Ginger reside in San Antonio during the offseason. The couple has two grown children. He got his nickname from his former manager, Tommy Lasorda, because he seldom looked as if he were happy.

CORPUS CHRISTI PDC: The Houston Astros and Ryan-Sanders Baseball have a Player Development Contract (PDC) for the Corpus Christi Hooks in effect through the 2010 season. The PDC also includes the Round Rock franchise.

CORPUS NAMED TEXAS LEAGUE ORGANIZATION OF 2009: In its fifth season of existence, the Hooks were named the Texas League Organization of the Year in 2009, snapping a three-year streak held by the Springfield Cardinals (2006-08).

ABOUT THE STANDINGS: The Corpus Christi Hooks completed the 2009 season with a 61-79 overall record, ranking fourth in the Texas League South Division. The Hooks finished 11.0 games behind the division-winning Midland RockHounds.

LOCKING DOWN TEAM MVP: The Hooks named OF Drew Locke the club's 2009 Team MVP. Locke, who was acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers in the minor league phase of the 2008 Rule 5 draft, set new Hooks single-season records for batting average (.338) and RBI (109), and either led the club or tied for the team lead in almost every major offensive category. In the league, he led in average, RBI and hits (170), while finishing second in the circuit in slugging percentage (.531), third in extra-base hits (54), tied for third in runs (81) and fourth in on-base percentage (.389). Defensively, Locke also tied for the Texas League lead with 15 outfield assists.

STRAIGHT TO THE BIGS: August was kind to RHP Wilton Lopez last season. In his five starts at Double A, he posted a 1.23 ERA (SER/36.2IP) with a 2-2 record and earned Corpus Christi's Pitcher of the Month honors. His performance earned him a promotion directly to Houston, where he made his first Major League appearance on Aug. 28 at Arizona.

THE FUTURE IS NOW: C Jason Castro and RHP Chia-Jen Lo's standout 2009 campaigns earned them spots on the XM All-Stars Futures game played at Busch Stadium. In the game, Castro slugged a three-run home run for the U.S. Team, while reliever Lo tossed an inning of shutout ball to receive the win for the World Team.

LEXINGTON PDC: The Houston Astros announced on August 22, 2008 that the club extended its Player Development Contract (PDC) with Class A Lexington of the South Atlantic League. The four-year extension continues the affiliation between the Astros and the Legends through the 2012 season.

IN THE STANDINGS: The Lexington Legends concluded their 2009 season with a 68-72 overall record, and in fifth place in the South Atlantic League Southern Division. The Legends were 36-34 in the first-half, 4.0 games behind the division champion Greenville Drive.

PELLEGRINI NAMED TEAM MVP: Lexington Legends Team MVP OF Brian Pellegrini finished with a .291 average (102x351) with 27 home runs and 74 RBI in 2009. He finished first in the South Atlantic League in home runs, while ranking second in both slugging (.578) and on-base percentage (.396). Among Astros prospects, Pellegrini finished the season ranking second in home runs (34) and fourth in RBI (89) in combined totals between Lexington and Lancaster.

The 2010 season marks the Astros 26th Spring Training at Osceola County Stadium.

After 21 spring camps in Astrotown at Cocoa, Fla., the Astros decided to try something new in 1985. They cleared ground near U.S. 192 and started from scratch, building the stateof-the-art Osceola County Stadium complex in Kissimmee, Fla.

When it opened, the complex was hailed as the best of its kind in Florida, and its unique "cloverleaf" design has served as a blueprint for many teams as they built new spring facilities – Kansas City, Cincinnati, and Minnesota. The stadium and complex has been more than the Astros Spring Training home for the past 25 seasons. It has played host to many local civic events.

The Astros opened Osceola County Stadium on March 3, 1985, when a then-record crowd of 6,742 saw Houston defeat the New York Yankees 9-6. In 2003, the stadium opened its doors once again against the Yankees, but with a whole new look. It underwent an $18.4-million renovation, featuring a new facade, new seating, expanded clubhouses and training facilities, a picnic area, and a re-designed press box and concession areas. A recent lease agreement will keep the Astros in the upgraded Kissimmee facility through 2016. The team is currently riding on the fifth-longest tenure in the Majors at a Florida spring home.

In 2009, the complex also became the home venue of the newly-affiliated Gulf Coast League Astros.

Houston first conducted Spring Training in Apache Junction, Ariz., in 1962 and 1963 before moving to Cocoa in 1964.

HOUSTON MEDIA WALL OF HONOR

On Sept. 12, 2009, former Astros beat writer Neil Hohlfeld was chosen as the third inductee to the Houston Media Wall of Honor. The Wall of Honor, which is a display on the broadcast level of the Minute Maid Park press box, honors a current or former Houston media member who has made significant and lasting contributions to the land-scape of Houston baseball through their work in journalism or broadcasting.

Hohlfeld covered the Houston Astros as the beat writer for the Houston Chronicle from 1979 until 1995, and in 2007, he returned to his first love as a baseball analyst for FS Houston's pre- and post-game shows.

Hohlfeld passed away on July 19, 2008 at the age of 56. He was honored by the Houston Chapter of the BBWAA as the recipient of the 2008 Fred Hartman Long and Meritorious Service Award.

There will be an inductee to the Wall of Honor each season, nominated and selected by the Houston baseball media. In May of each year, a nominating committee will solicit nominations from all media members who receive season credentials from the Astros, and wish to submit a name for consideration. The nominating committee, consisting of selected members of the Houston-area media and Astros front office staff, will compile the nomination forms and create a final ballot of candidates for that year.

In June, the final ballot will be sent to Astros seasoncredentialed media, with the winner of the balloting (that year's inductee) announced in July.

HOUSTON WALL OF HONOR INDUCTEES:
2007 Anita Martini 2009 Neil Hohlfeld

MITTE MAID PARK

The 2010 season marks the 11th season of baseball in Minute Maid Park and the 45th Anniversary of the Houston Astros. Through the previous 10 seasons, the venue has hosted numerous special events, including the 2004 All-Star Game and Home Run Derby, the 2005 World Series, numerous concerts, weddings, graduations and galas.

The year 2000 saw something the grand old game of baseball had not experienced since 1964 — a Major League team in Houston playing on natural grass outdoors. While clear skies and real grass were welcome additions for fans, Bayou City hardball faithful also enjoyed another first in Minute Maid Park's 242-foot-high retractable roof. Fans approved the new ballpark overwhelmingly, resulting in a then-record of more than 3,000,000 fans through the Minute Maid Park turnstiles in the 2000 season. The club has welcomed more than 28,000,000 visitors in the facility's 10 seasons of play.

A jewel in the crown of the majestic downtown Houston skyline, Minute Maid Park has become a welcome home for the Houston Astros and has ushered in a new era of Major League sports in the city. The downtown ballpark continues the proud tradition of visionary innovation in stadium construction, beginning with the club's previous home – the Astrodome. Minute Maid Park's retractable roof technology brought open-air baseball to Houston for the first time in 35 years, and the natural grass surface and classic architecture provided Minute Maid Park the atmosphere of the great ballparks of baseball's golden age.

Approval of the ballpark, however, was not limited to the applause of the fans. Less than one calendar year from its opening, Minute Maid Park had already been recognized on a local, state and national awards level. Following are the first three major awards to honor the new home of the Astross:

Greater Houston Preservation Alliance, 2000 Good Brick Award. The President's Award was presented to owner Drayton McLane, the Astros and the Harris County-Houston Sports Authority for the renovation of the 1911 Union Station building. The Good Brick Awards are presented annually in recognition of leadership and excellence in historic preservation.

Most Outstanding Civil Engineering Project. This honor came from the Texas Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE), the professional organization that represents the vast majority of civil engineers.

National Honor Award for Engineering Excellence. This national recognition for engineering excellence came from the American Consulting Engineers Council (ACEC). This honor stamped Minute Maid Park as one of the Top 24 engineering projects among all buildings and civil works projects nationally.

All-STAR GAME: In 2004, Minute Maid Park played host to the 75th Major League Baseball All-Star Game. More than 350,000 people participated in All-Star Week activites, which included the Futures Game, Legends/Celebrity Softball Game, and the Home Run Derby - all which took place at Minute Maid Park - in addition to the John Hancock All-Star Fan Fest. The week culminated with the All-Star Game and a 9-4 American League win over the National League squad. Four Astros played in the game, including NL starting pitcher Roger Clemens, Carlos Beltran, Jeff Kent, and Lance Berkman.

LUCATION: Minute Maid Park is located at 501 Crawford Street on the northeast end of downtown Houston. Situated near the George R. Brown Convention Center, the ballpark is located one block west of U.S. 59 and is bounded by Congress Avenue on the north, Texas Avenue on the South, Crawford Street on the west and Hamilton Street on the east.

ARCHITECT: HOK Sports Facilities Group. Construction Manager: Brown & Root Services, a business unit of Halliburton Company.

HISTORY: The idea for a public-private financing drive for a downtown Houston ballpark was conceived in 1996. Fourteen leading Houston companies joined together to form the Houston Sports Facility Partnership. The Partnership agreed to provide a $35 million interest-free loan with no repayment due until 10 years of ballpark operation had passed. With the Partnership's initial commitment, the Harris County-Houston Sports Authority had the support it needed to present a ballpark proposal to the public in November 1996. Voters approved the $250 million project.

FIRST GAMES: The Houston Astros and New York Yankees played an exhibition game on March 30, 2000, with Houston winning 6-5. The Astros hosted the Philadelphia Phillies in the first official regular-season game on April 7, 2000, with Philadelphia winning 4-1.

THE NAME: On June 5, 2002, the Houston Astros and The Minute Maid Company announced that they had expanded their relationship to create a long-term marketing and community partnership. The multi-year partnership agreement included naming rights for the downtown ballpark, rechristening the field "Minute Maid Park."

The partnership agreement also stipulated that the popular Minute Maid Squeeze Play attraction at the ballpark will continue for the length of the 28-year agreement, along with pouring rights for products of The Coca-Cola Company, ongoing advertising and marketing programs, and a commitment by Minute Maid to support youth baseball programs in the Houston area.

The Minute Maid Company is an operating unit of The Coca-Cola Company and the flagship of its worldwide fruit beverage business. The Minute Maid Company has been headquartered in Houston since 1967.

Houston's downtown ballpark was originally named Enron Field on April 7, 1999, and was renamed Astros Field on February 27, 2002, by agreement of the Houston Astros and Enron Corp.

ITUTE MAJU PARK

UNION STATION: According to HOK's design platform, the most literal tie between Houston's past and its new ballpark is a physical line to Union Station. The building is a symbol of the important role the railroad has played in the city's relatively short history, especially early in the 20th century. The director of Minute Maid Park's identity and graphics takes its cue from this period.

The railroad created Houston. Flourishing trade established a base of wealth and culture, an infrastructure of banks, a port and railheads. By 1910, railroads constituted the city's largest industry. In 1911, Union Station - already key to the rail industry's growth and influence - was redesigned and reopened.

Built at a cost of $500,000 at the corner of Texas Avenue and Crawford Street, Union Station was dedicated on March 2, 1911. It has been estimated that between 7,000 and 10,000 Houstonians passed through the front doors into the 45-foot-high lobby, which included three varieties of polished marble. By the mid-1940's, Union Station was handling 5,000 travelers daily on 36 passenger trains.

Team officials note that approximately 60 percent of fans enter Minute Maid Park via Union Station. Walk-up or booked Minute Maid Park tours, offered year-round, also begin in the Union Station lobby.

The second and third floors comprise the Conference Center, open 365 days a year and providing a wide array of meeting rooms that can give businesses and organizations state-of-the-art facilities. Nestled in different areas of the ballpark are additional meeting rooms and areas that provide the perfect atmosphere for a meeting or luncheon.

The Houston Astros executive offices are housed in the fourth and fifth floors. The sixth floor features the Roof Deck and Club House at Union Station, where private groups of up to 100 can enjoy the game and an incredible view of the Houston skyline.

TRAIII: A replica of a 19th century locomotive (circa 1860) and linked coal tender is a fan favorite. The train provides an architectural icon which combines sight, sound and motion for a dynamic entertainment and celebration feature. It also proves a link to the past for Houston and the Union Station site. The train was designed by Uni-Systems and built by SMI & Hydraulics, which also provided the transporters for the retractable roof. Weighing close to 50,000 pounds, the train runs some 800 feet along the low roof track on the west side of the ballpark.

The building dimensions cover 28.97 acres of gross square footage, a total of 1,263,240 square feet. The height is 93 feet to the last seating tread, equivalent to a nine-story building.

THE ROOF: Architects from the HOK Sports Facilities Group recommended early on that a retractable roof would be appropriate for the Texas climate. Since building the first retractable-roof ballpark - the Skydome in 1989 - designers have crafted several kinds of retractable roofs. Some, for instance, open only over a small central section. The roof at Minute Maid Park, however, retracts completely off the ballpark to reveal the largest open area of any retractable roofed baseball stadium in existence today. A total of 50,000 square feet of glass in the west wall of the retractable roof gives fans a view of the Houston skyline, even when the roof is in the closed position.

Uni-Systems provided the technical expertise to design the best roof structure for Minute Maid Park. Mechanized roof panels open and close in 12-20 minutes. The roof moves back and forth an estimated 160 times a year, a distance of 14.6 miles. To cover the ballpark, steel panels roll in sequence along tracks on the east and west sides of the stadium. When the roof is open, the southern and northern panels, each of which measures 537 by 120 feet and weighs 1,905 metric tons, rest at the north end below the large middle section with its dimension of 589 by 242 feet and a weight of 3,810 metric tons. Designers determined the roof's shape - lower side panels flanking the high center panel - by tracking a batted baseball's hyperbolic flight path.

Forged steel wheels measuring 35 inches in diameter transport the three roof panels. Each of the 140 wheels has its own braking mechanism and 60 are equipped with electric motors.

If the track is slightly out of alignment, all the weight of a roof panel could come to rest on one wheel, causing severe structural damage. To prevent this, a polyurethane suspension pad that acts as a spring is attached above each wheel to distribute the roof's weight. The low track/high track configuration and the roof's built-in glass wall not only offer valuable efficiency, but afford a panoramic view of the surrounding landscape unlike any other roofed ballpark.

PLAYING FIELD: Three wall heights, various angles in the corners and power alleys, a 10-degree, uphill slope – "Tal's Hill" – for a center field warning track, and a flag pole in the field of play create unique actions for any ball that gets past an outfielder.

Featuring Platinum TE Paspalum grass, the playing surface covers 2.5 acres. The drainage and irrigation systems include 6.682 linear feet of perforated pipe and 4.406 linear feet PVC pipe, respectively. A total of 78 irrigation heads help make the job for head groundskeeper Dan Bergstrom and his staff much easier.

5011105: A total of 400 speaker cabinets are scattered throughout the seating areas and almost 1,000 are found along the concourses. The speakers are distributed throughout the ballpark to have cabinets as close to the fans as possible.

ECHIDDLUGY: Minute Maid Park was the first major sports facility to feature a closed-captioning board for the hearing impaired. The Daktronics black-and-white matrix board and Daktronics color matrix board present baseball fans with a unique experience at Minute Maid Park. The primary scoreboard, measuring 35 feet by 131 feet, displays player and team stats on the left side while the right features graphics and animation, including the recreation of several of the Astrodome's effects of yesteryear. A speed pitch board, four auxiliary scoreboards and an old-fashioned manually operated scoreboard keep fans on top of the action in the ballpark and in every other big league venue. Two 100-feet LED ribbonboards stretch above the club level, displaying highquality animations, graphics and out-of-town baseball scores. The state-of-the-art video board high atop Minute Maid Park provides fans with award-winning special video features and effects created by Astros Productions that is unlike anywhere in Major League Baseball.

SEATIME: With visually redirected seats and baseball-only sightlines, Astros fans are as close to the action as any in big league baseball. Seats along the right and left field foul lines are only five feet from the line, while the nearest spectator along the first and third base lines can be as close as 43 feet to the game.

The overall seating capacity of Minute Maid Park is 40,950, featuring nine different seating areas: Dugout Boxes, Field Boxes, Crawford Boxes, Bullpen Boxes, Club I, Club II, Terrace Deck, Mezzanine, and View Deck, Each of the ballpark's four levels - Main Concourse, Club Level, Suite Level, and Upper Concourse - afford fans a uniquely different perspective.

Minute Maid Park's seats are a deep green to match the retro look and design of the ballpark, Approximately 6,500 seats in the Diamond Level and Charter Seat License areas in the lower bowl and Club Level include cup holders.

Fans sampling the various Minute Maid Park ticket options will find the following at Houston's ballpark: seats on top of the action, various one-of-a-kind amenities like the Minute Maid Squeeze Play, the "9 Amigos" patio in center field, and panoramic views of the ballpark and spectacular views of the downtown Houston skyline.

One of the most popular seating areas are the Crawford Boxes, located in left field. This area provides fans with a unique perspective of what it is like to be a Major League outfielder.

The Diamond Club, Club Level and Suites provide the ultimate in entertaining areas, while groups can take advantage of special mezzanine seating and "The Champions" party room. "Home Run Alley" is a 810-foot long fan arcade, including the fan-favorite "Conoco Home Run Porch" in left-center field that is actually over the field of play, and features a classic gasoline pump to keep track of the number of Astros home runs that are hit.

The Astros Suites, located between the Club Level and Terrace Deck, provide luxury and comfort for watching Major League games. Beautifully appointed with a bar/buffet, socializing area and closed-circuit TVs, the suites offer privacy and comfort for personal and business entertainment. Sliding glass doors open to stadium chairs, designed to seat quests in two rows.

Keeping with Astros tradition, children 14-and-under are still able to purchase a $1 ticket for seats in the Outfield Deck section.

Food courts and concession stands are designed to preserve the spirit of Houston's Union Station, Regional fare and ballpark favorites are located on the main concourse and in the upper deck.

SPECIAL AMENITIES: Inside the ballpark, the "FiveSeven Grille" center field restaurant and sports bar offers restaurant or outdoor seating options for fans seeking a one-of-a-kind dining experience. The Minute Maid Squeeze Play area along the right field line provides children with a fun, safe, interactive experience. The Conoco Home Plate Tower along Texas Avenue is a popular gathering point for fans, and it also features a carillon to provide music at appropriate times of the day.

As Minute Maid Park enters its 11th season in existence, the downtown Houston facility has developed into much more than just a venue for Houston Astros games. From music festivals and concerts to graduations, galas, and a variety of events including everything from former President Bush's 80th birthday and American Idol auditions, Minute Maid Park is a perfect place for any event, sports-related or otherwise. Here's a partial list of the events that have been held at the ballpark, outside of Astros games:
